

THE PURPOSE OF LIFE: TO BECOME HAPPY

SGI President Ikeda's message to the SGI-USA women's division general meetings taking place this month.

My sincere congratulations on your SGI-USA women's division general meetings, gatherings of smiling mothers nobly dedicated to kosen-rufu.

Each of you who gather today has been challenging your limitations and creating a new history through your splendid victory.

The purpose of life is to become happy. Our faith also exists to enable us to build a truly happy life-condition that can neither be defeated nor destroyed, whatever may happen.

I ask that, no matter what, all SGI-USA women's division members please continue to chant Nam-myoho-renge-kyo to the Gohonzon with strong hope and confidence. Then, you will bring forth your wisdom and courage, and enjoy a dignified life in which all your wishes are fulfilled.

The American women's division is like a sun always shining the light of hope upon homes, communities and society. In hopes that each of you will be always healthy, wise and strong, I conclude my message.

*February 1999
Daisaku Ikeda*

Title: The Purpose Of Life: To Become Happy
Subject: World Tribune 02/26/99 n.3231 p.1 WT990226p01
Author: Daisaku Ikeda
Keywords: Become Daisaku Division Encouragement Guidance Happiness Happy Ikeda Life Messages
Purpose Women Youth